

Seminar on development of competencies for professional practice

K.H. Kempen – Geel Belgium – 19-20 April 2010

PROGRAM

Day 1

Acquaintance

Short introduction on the program and the method of AI (Appreciative Inquiry)

Innovating ideas and good practices for a competency based coaching and evaluation of students in practice.

Good practices and innovating ideas of all participants. Therefore it is important that participants have an insight in the way students currently are evaluated for field practice at their home institution. Which criteria are used for practice evaluation of students? What do they say about the professional competencies of the student? Which are good experiences and examples?

Competencies in Social Work Education

Keynote speakers

- 1 How to develop competence based education?
- 2 Appreciative coaching of students on competences.
- 3 Evaluation of competences
Competence based practice in Social Work University Colleges in Belgium
- 4 Competences on an international level

Informal evening program with colleagues of K.H. Kempen

Day 2

Continuing the phases of the AI-model

At the end of the first day participants will have a clear view of what good competency based coaching and evaluation of students in practice can be. We will continue working with this to determine which actions we can take in our own setting and on an international level.

A common view on competency based coaching and evaluation of students in field practice

A first draft of a common competency based evaluation form for practice placements abroad

Dissemination

What can we do to disseminate the results of our two days work? How to share our experiences and ideas for the benefit of students who do their practice placements abroad?
