

TACLING MEN'S VIOLENCE IN FAMILIES
NORDIC ISSUES AND DILEMMAS

Edited by Maria Eriksson, Marianne Hester, Suvi Keskinen and Keith Pringle

Drawing on new research from Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden, the book critically examines how men's violence in families is perceived and responded to in the Nordic context. It pays particular attention to the links between violence to women and violence to children, children's perspectives, professional discourses and responses, and legal and policy approaches.

With clear links between research, policy and practice, the book is highly relevant to a wide international audience, including academics, researchers and students in the fields of social work, health, criminology, sociology, social policy, gender studies, European studies and law. It is also recommended reading for welfare managers, practitioners, and policy makers.
